KALEA is a small company from Germany, specialized in beer specialities from small and privately owned breweries. In 2010, Kalea introduced the Original Advent Calendar in Europe. Two years later the first calendar was launched in America. In addition to the calendar the company offers special beer packs. In 2017, Kalea developed the BeerTasting app, where customers can find all informations about the beers in the tasting boxes and 150,000 other beers. This app is now available worldwide and makes tasting different beers a special experience.
